

Director – BREMSS
University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB)
Birmingham, Alabama

The University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) is a research university and academic health center that discovers, teaches and applies knowledge for the intellectual, cultural, social and economic benefit of Birmingham, the state and beyond. Under the guidance of the Birmingham Regional Emergency Medical Services System (BREMSS) Board/Executive Committee, the Director serves as the principal administrator of the BREMSS program and the Alabama Trauma Communications Center (ATCC) with responsibility for coordinating a comprehensive delivery system of emergency medical services for the citizens of Blount, Chilton, Jefferson, Shelby, St. Clair, Walker and Winston counties. You will identify program needs, develop an overall program design and organize the specific projects undertaken as part of the BREMSS program; supervise BREMSS staff in the conduct of emergency medical services system activities by providing initial guidance, allocating staff resources, organizing project task forces, evaluating current projects and reviewing agency output; manage budgetary and personnel functions; and coordinate program activities with the Management Committee of the BREMSS Advisory Council. This role serves as liaison to all emergency medical services providers and agencies within the region, state and nationally to ensure a coordinated effort.

Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree in a relevant field and five years of related experience; work experience may not substitute for education requirement
- Experience supervising and managing a team
- Solid leadership and interpersonal skills
- Grant writing experience desired

About the University of Alabama at Birmingham

The University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) is the largest research institution in the state of Alabama and the largest employer in the city of Birmingham. UAB is the only public, four-year degree granting university in the state's largest metropolitan area and is internationally renowned for its intensely collaborative culture that has—for nearly five decades—produced continual breakthroughs in education, healthcare, research and service.

The faculty and students of UAB have generated unique ideas and groundbreaking solutions to address the issues and challenges of a changing society. With 20,000+ students representing more than 100 countries around the world, UAB provides a collaborative learning experience that prepares students to lead, teach, conduct research, provide professional services, become the prominent scholars and societal leaders of the future and contribute to our region's and our nation's prosperity.

For consideration, please apply online directly at:

https://uab.taleo.net/careersection/ext/jobdetail.ftl?job=T51628&lang=en&sns_id=mailto#.WpNB4tcATYA.mailto UAB is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable and family-friendly environment in which all faculty and staff can excel and achieve work/life balance irrespective of, race, national origin, age, genetic or family medical history, gender, faith, gender identity and expression as well as sexual orientation. UAB also encourages applications from individuals with disabilities and veterans.