Message from Our President

Dear Colleague:

I'd like to personally thank you for considering a partnership with the National Association of State EMS Officials! It's a challenging time in the nation as each of us continue to grow and adjust to a changing universe. Like so many other organizations, NASEMSO is adapting so that we can continue to meet the needs and expectations of the public, our members, our associates, and the healthcare industry while supporting goals that are better implemented through collaboration. We'll continue to bring inspired people together by whatever means are necessary to ensure NASEMSO remains at the cutting edge of EMS.

Although a global emergency impacted our ability to gather in 2020 and 2021, we fully expect to reconvene in 2022. As you may know, the full NASEMSO membership comes together once a year at our Annual Meeting, with high attendance rates and stellar reviews from our members. We also expect the intimate regional meetings held once a year in the fall will resume in 2022. In the meanwhile, NASEMSO members will continue to work together year-round within their regions, councils and committees.

NASEMSO is transforming the way we operate to continuously improve our ability to respond to changing times. Our staff and partners have continued to meet the challenges of our field and to excel. I hope that you will find this engagement portfolio helpful in understanding various opportunities for you to engage with our members, both "virtually" and when we are able to reconvene in person.

Before I close, I'd like to thank each of you for bringing your expertise to our organization. As a leader in the industry, you have the vision, the knowledge, and the experience to help us pave our way into the future. You are truly our greatest asset today and tomorrow, and we could not accomplish what we do without your support and leadership. Throughout this uncertain time, I ask you to stay engaged, keep us proactive and help us shape the future of EMS. My personal respect and thanks goes out to all of you.

Alisa Williams
2022 NASEMSO President

Our Organization

The National Association of State EMS Officials (NASEMSO) is the lead national organization for emergency medical services, a respected voice for national EMS policy with comprehensive concern and commitment for the development of effective, integrated, community-based, universal and consistent EMS systems. We are the only organization in the country that is comprised of state-level EMS directors, medical directors, and program managers in data, personnel licensure, health and medical preparedness, trauma systems, and pediatric emergency care. Our members are experienced professionals who stay abreast of cutting-edge health technology and medical science to ensure the very best in prehospital care.

Covering a full range of disciplines involved in system development and care delivery, NASEMSO members are responsible for state level policy-making, EMS program management, and grant administration that augments EMS equipment and service needs at the local, regional, and statewide levels.

Please visit our web site at www.nasemso.org

Responsibilities of the state lead agency for EMS can include:

- Write regulatory language and protocols related to the provision of emergency medical services in the state
- Approve prehospital skills and devices that are permitted under state laws
- License EMS practitioners
- Determine what training/continuing education must take place for EMS practitioners to function in the field
- Distribute federal and state grant funding to communities and EMS agencies
- Determine approved equipment lists
- License ambulances and EMS agencies
- Provide information when multiple manufacturers offer similar products
- Collect patient data that supports EMS research and practice
- Work with institutional review boards to facilitate product trials
- Approve EMS research projects
- Limit and/or prohibit the use of specific devices and products when a product is determined to be insufficient to meet the standard of care in a particular state
- Counsel or discipline an EMS practitioner when they use a device that is not permitted or misuse a product for which it is not intended

NASEMSO members are regulators and their primary responsibility is to “protect the public.” They implement state and national policy changes that determine what EMS practitioners can and cannot do in the field. It is important for them to understand why your product or service is in the best interest of EMS and patient care!
