

Reasons to Attend the NASEMSO Annual Meeting 2024

The National Association of State EMS Officials (NASEMSO) is the collective voice of the nation's emergency medical services systems. We focus on national EMS policy with comprehensive concern and commitment for the development of effective, integrated, community-based, universal and consistent EMS systems.

We are the only organization in the country whose primary members are state-level EMS directors, medical directors, and program managers in data, personnel licensure, health and medical preparedness, trauma systems, EMS education and pediatric emergency care. Our members are experienced professionals who stay abreast of cutting-edge health technology and medical science to ensure the very best in prehospital care. Our 2023 gathering included over 300 participants, with representatives from nearly every state and as well as national EMS policymakers in attendance.

The NASEMSO Annual Meeting is small enough to afford valuable opportunities for networking but large enough to attract speakers, federal, corporate and association partners who matter to EMS. State EMS officials who attend our annual meeting consistently report that it is the most important and informative meeting they attend all year.

SPECIAL EVENT: As we convene in Pittsburgh for the Annual Meeting 2024, NASEMSO is honored to host some of the pioneers of Freedom House Ambulance, the first of its kind paramedic level ambulance service staffed by Black men recruited off the inner-city streets of Pittsburgh in 1967. A recognition ceremony honoring the Freedom House veterans will take place on May 15, 2024.
